

WHAT DOES MOMMY DO?

When it's time to work, Mommy gets ready,
With hugs goodbye, for her family and teddy.

Out she heads, to work with her team,
To start her day, and make real her dream.

Mommy and her team, with pieces to share,
Work together to assemble with care.

Piece by piece, the contract gets made
Agreeing on terms is how this game's played.

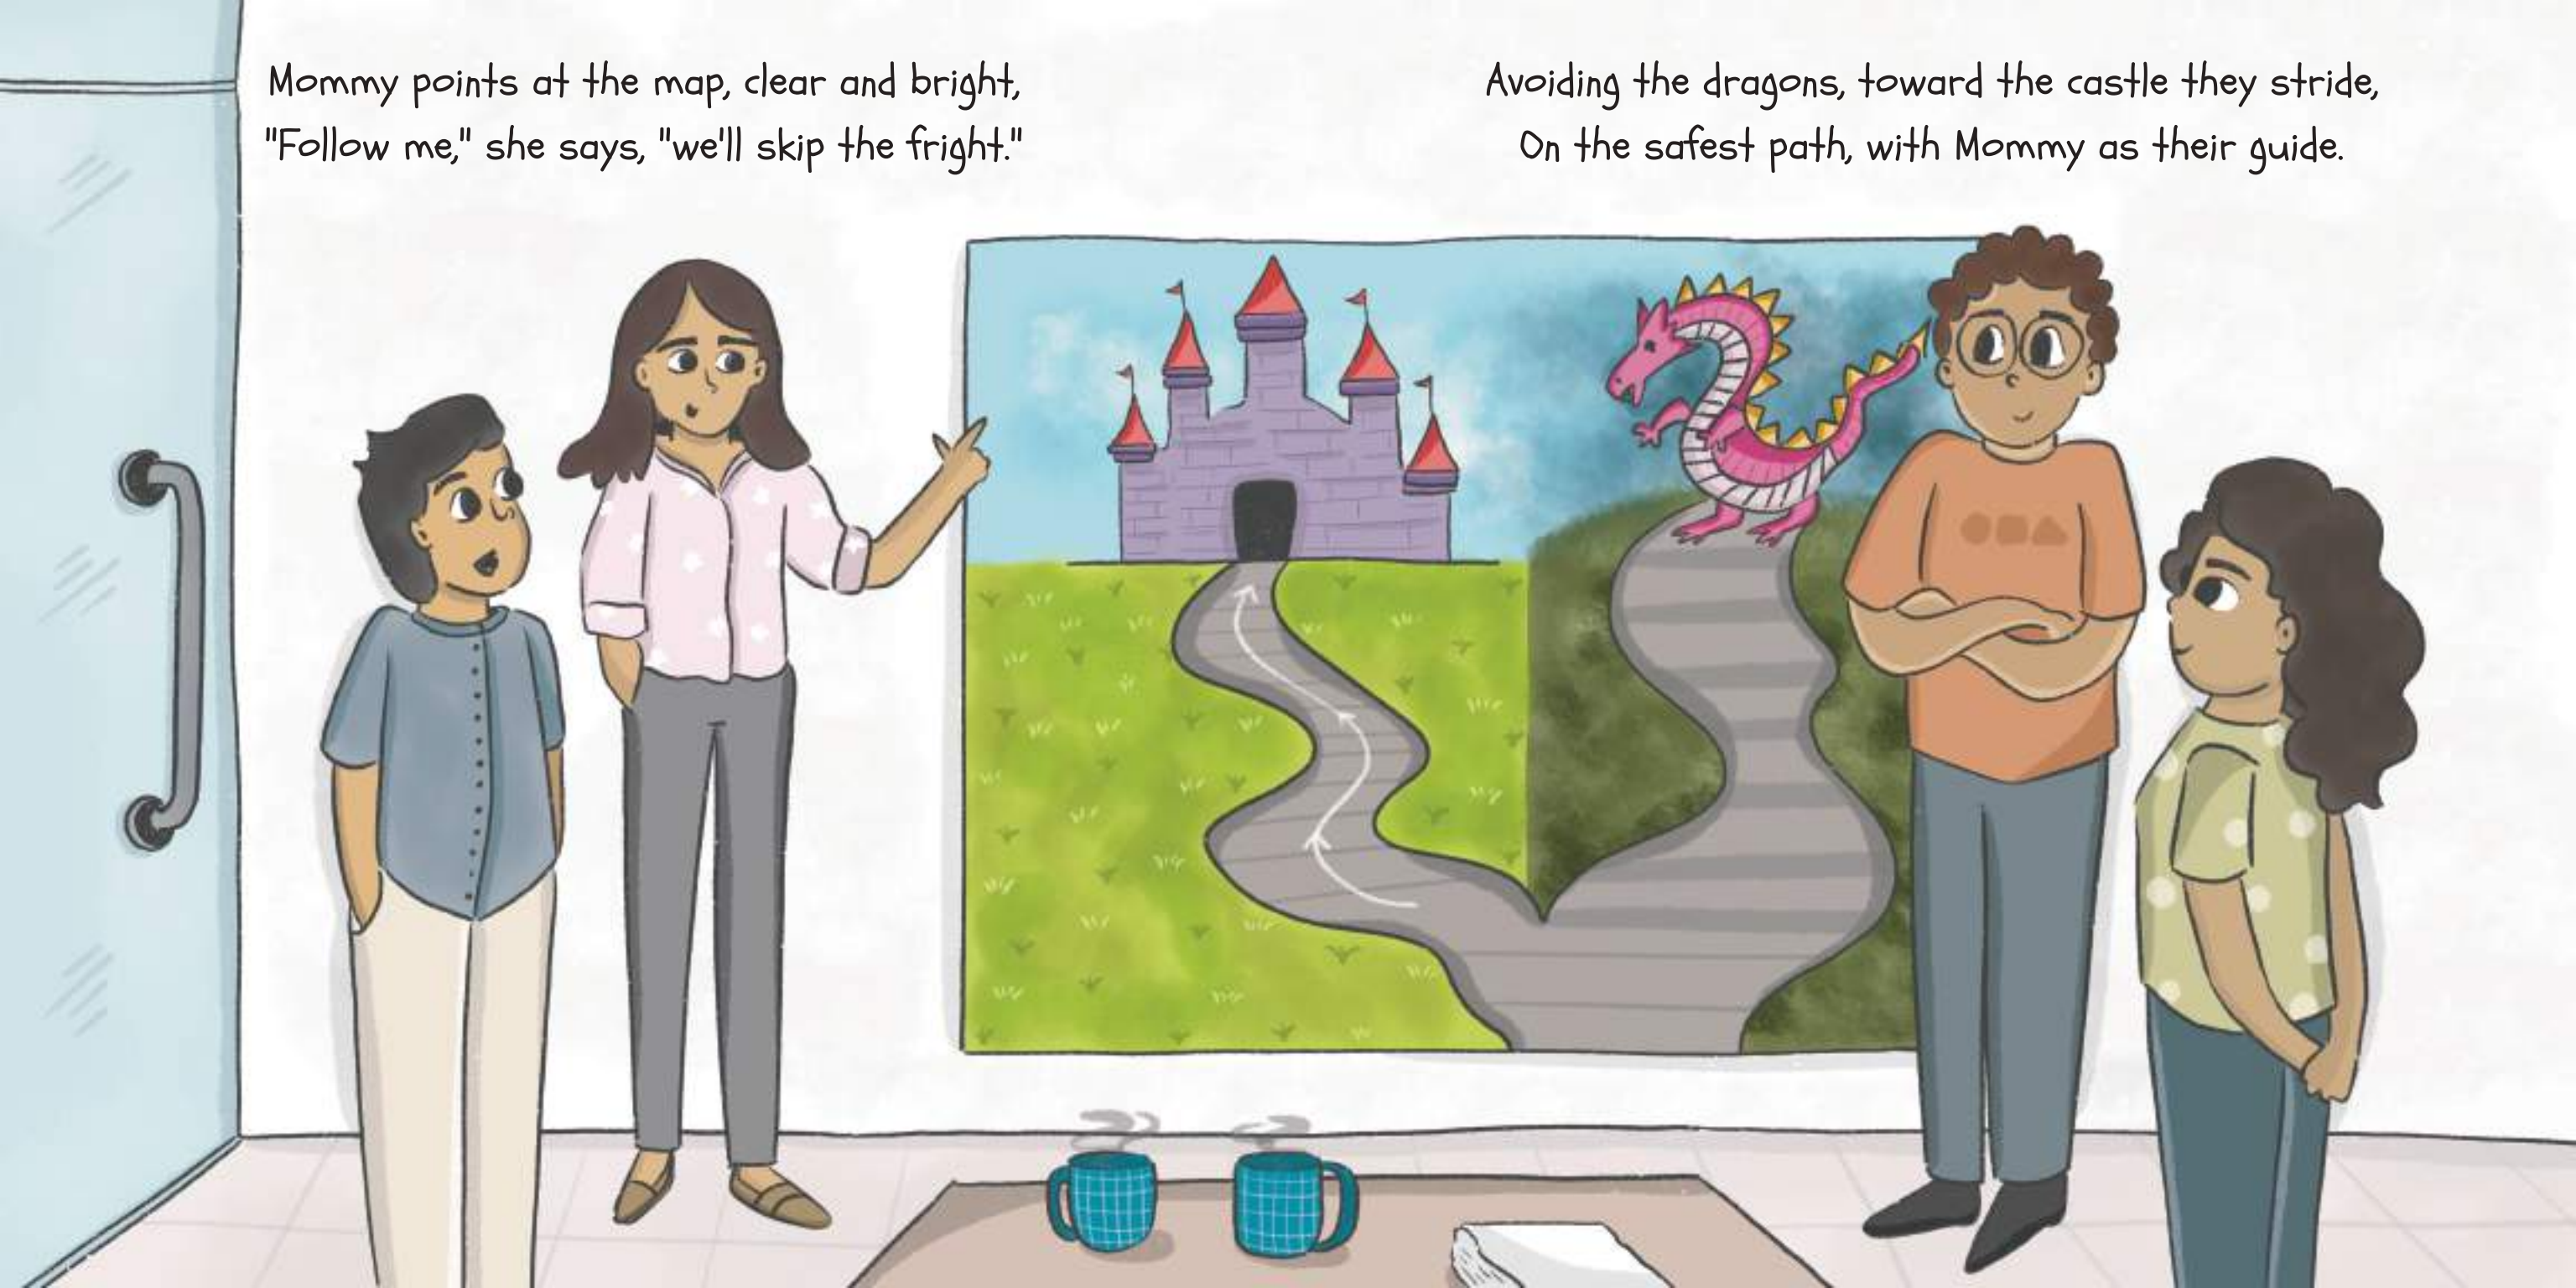

'Follow the rules,' Mommy always says,
Tapping keys through the policy maze.

With each rule precise, her wisdom shines through,
Creating rules fair, for the entire crew.

Mommy points at the map, clear and bright,
"Follow me," she says, "we'll skip the fright."

Avoiding the dragons, toward the castle they stride,
On the safest path, with Mommy as their guide.

Mommy holds the ladder, nice and steady,
Her friends climb up. Now they're ready.

To reach for their goals with no stress.
Laughing along, they climb to success!

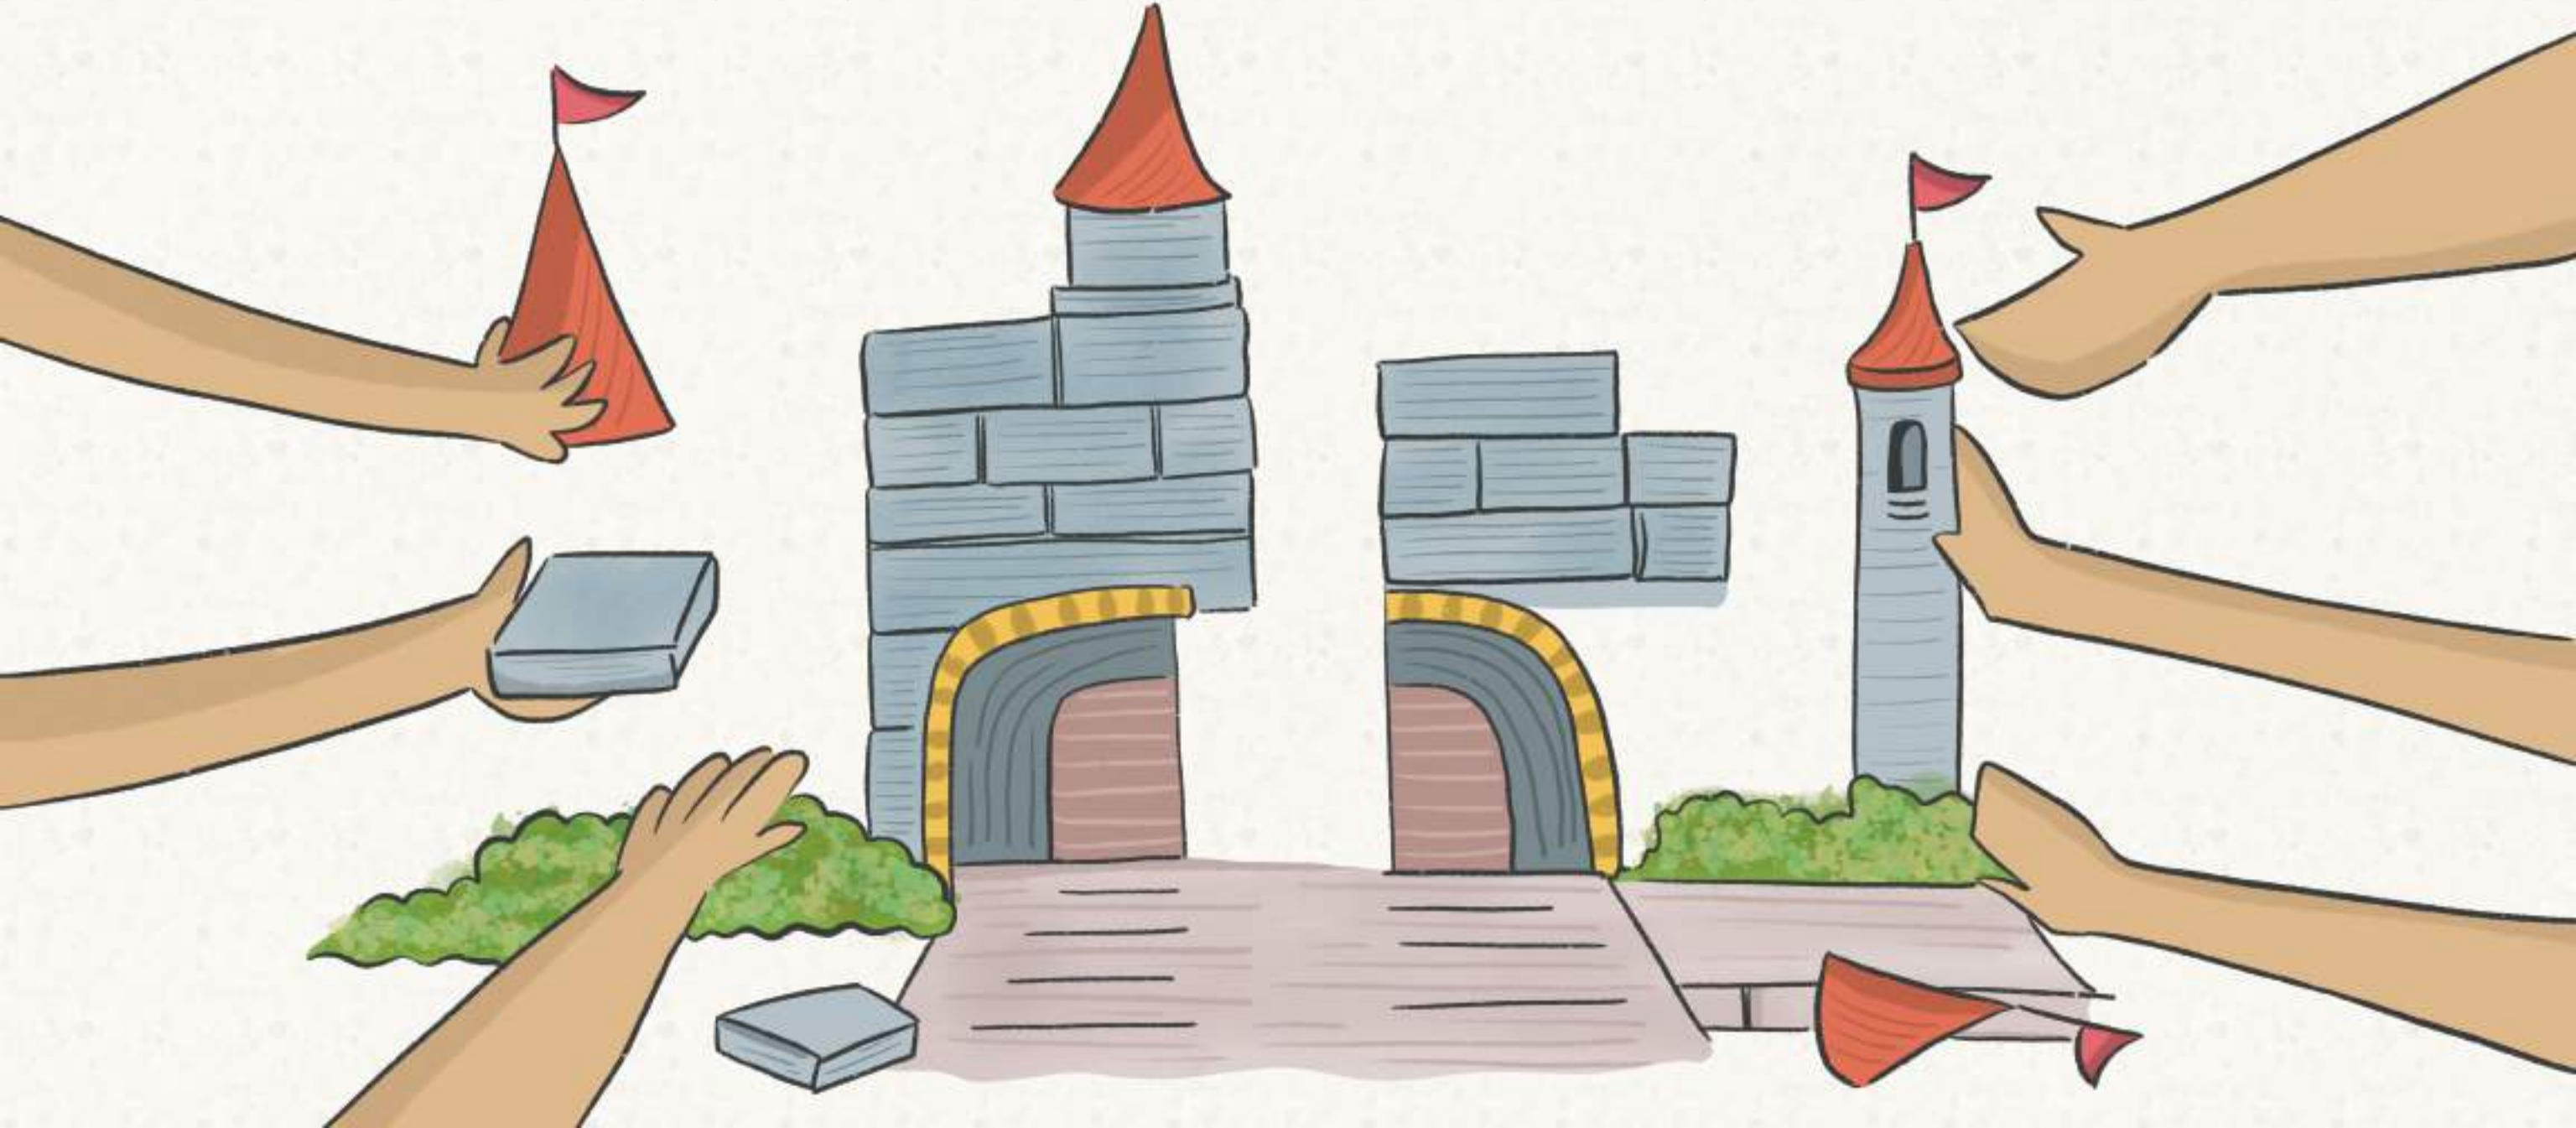

Important contracts, hidden away,
Mommy says "We must find them today."

With a keen eye, they search with care,
In folders, in drawers, looking everywhere.

With the contract high, they stand proud with success,
Mommy and team, having dug through the mess.

The old filing system gave her a headache,
Searching with new tools is a piece of cake.

'Safety first!' Mommy stands tall,
Her shiny shield keeps safe one and all.

Risks and surprises, she could foresee
So, the company's future remains risk-free.

It's time to put everything in its place,
Mommy's team organizes with haste.

Contracts and papers, easy to find,
Now, she can go home to unwind.

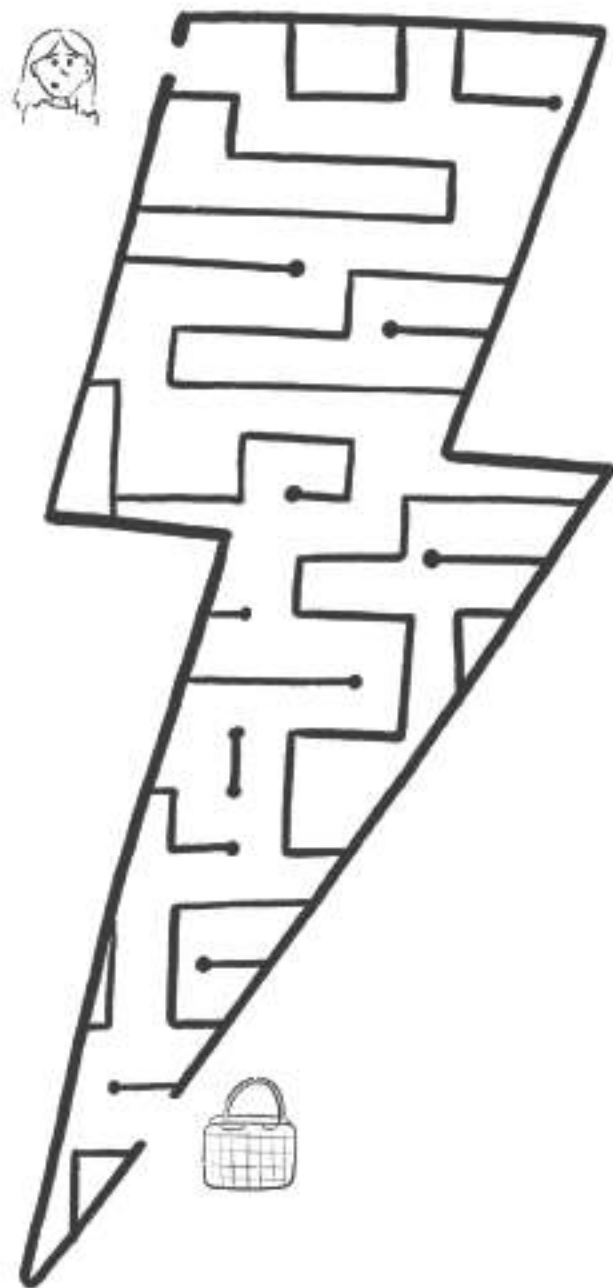

With her workday done, it's time to go back,
Taking a break from emails and Slack.

Ready for cuddles and nighttime fun,
She whispers, 'I love you, my little one.'
